

I work on AI governance and human information-gathering systems, with an emphasis on ethical coordination, decision-making under uncertainty, and systems-level thinking.

Interests include prospective psychology, digital biology, and early-stage Python use for analysis and experimentation.

I use GitHub to publish public documents, drafts, and evolving frameworks.